Instructions - Week One - Hunting and Gathering

This time around the instructions are pretty simple. Go for a walk. Find what you find. Write for 5 minutes without editing. Look at what you found and choose a few things to draw and sketch. Do a little watercolor - and another. Draw one thing and then two. Play, explore, try, fail, try again. Get comfortable with your materials - be playful. Leave your materials out so you'll return to them again and try again. Beginning to begin.

Remember: The assignments are pinned at the top of this page in order of the most recent ones. The post will be visible, or just "view pinned post". It is always there. The videos and written step by step instructions are under FILES at the top of the page just below your beautiful faces. The passwords for the videos are the first word of each video all lowercase. If your video starts and stops then try pausing for a few minutes after it begins and then come back to it. This gives your computer a chance to download the data. If you tap the HD under the video image it will stream the video more quickly. If you are not getting a strong wifi signal, try again when you have a better connection. As always I'm here for you with any questions about the class. Erinleegafill@yahoo.com or message me via FB.
